September 2018 Issue

It has Begun!

The year has started! We have invited seven new students to live with us. This first Orientation Week is about communicating expectations, building relationships, and laying a foundation for a successful year. So far the guys are getting along well with each other and the rest of the staff.

On Thursday and Friday we celebrated the end of Orientation Week by camping out on "the back 40" and having a bonfire with all the students, staff, and their families.

Please be in prayer that the Lord would work powerfully this year as His Word is faithfully communicated in love. God doesn't only want to do a work in the lives of the boys, He wants to mature everyone on campus, and we're excited to be part of that process.

You can also pray that the Lord would provide a new set of House Parents. We're steadily growing and are looking forward to expanding our staff in order to minister to more families.

WildHeart Adventure Camp

2018 Summer Program

Thank you for your prayer and support this summer, as we ministered to 9 families. We saw God working in the lives of the teen boys and in their families. One of the most encouraging and powerful times of our summer was when our van broke down in Western Wisconsin, making us late for meeting up with the dads that showed up for the last weekend. That time was used by God for the dads to engage in great discussion and time of spiritual thought and prayer. Continue in prayer for these families! Two of our campers have returned for our 10-month program, which gives us greater opportunity to work with their families.

Counselor Blogs

We were blessed to have a dynamic team of counselors with us this summer! Please take some time to review what God did in and through their lives. The following paragraph is an excerpt from the blog of our lead counselor, Tim Warren:

"In spite of the fun we had canoeing and fellowshiping with the fathers, week three was a difficult week in a number of ways. There were no dramatic conversions or evident movements of the Spirit. From a pragmatic standpoint, it would seem that we failed our mission as counselors. But although we did not see the planted seed take root, we are encouraged by the truth that God's Word does not go out void; it always accomplishes the purpose for which it was sent. Even if they did not accept God's gift of salvation yet, they saw His love in our lives, and who knows what God will do with the seeds we have planted?"
